Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

The investment objective of the Ninepoint Gold Bullion Fund (the “Fund”) is to seek to provide a secure, convenient alternative for investors seeking to hold gold.

As part of its investment strategy, the Fund:

- invests primarily in unencumbered, fully allocated gold bullion and/or permitted gold certificates, the underlying interest of which is gold;
- may invest a portion of its assets in cash, money market instruments and/or treasury bills; and
- may use derivatives, such as currency forward contracts, for hedging purposes only.

Sprott Asset Management LP is the subadvisor for the Fund.

Risk

The risks of investing in the Fund are described in the Fund’s simplified prospectus. Direct purchases of gold by the Fund may generate higher transaction and custody costs than other types of investments, which may impact the performance of the Fund. The Fund is suitable for those investors who want exposure to the capital appreciation potential of gold and who want to maintain a high level of liquidity in their investments with a medium to high tolerance for risk and volatility and have a medium to long-term investment horizon. There were no significant changes to the investment objective and strategies that affected the Fund’s overall level of risk during the reporting period.

Results of Operations

The Fund, Series A, returned 2.4% in the first half of 2023, versus spot gold, which increased by 3.0% in Canadian dollar terms. In U.S. dollar terms, the spot price increased by 5.2%. The spot price of gold was $1,919.35 an ounce (in U.S. dollar terms) as at June 30, 2023 compared to a price of $1,824.02 an ounce as at December 31, 2022.

Gold carried over its strong 2022 close into 2023, posting a gain of 5.2% through the first half. This was despite bullion ETFs continuing to liquidate both gold and silver. Gold was a beneficiary of strong central bank buying which carried over from 2022. However, silver did not fare quite as well, declining 4.9% through the first half. Perhaps the most important reason for the difference in silver’s performance vs that of gold was the lack of systematic buying to support the liquidation of ETFs. While central banks have been buyers of gold, we have not seen any evidence of silver purchases by central banks. Gold has also continued to benefit from the rhetoric surrounding its use by the BRICS nations.

Through the first half of the year, silver ETFs sold ~2.6 million ounces of silver while gold ETF holdings declined by ~1.2 million ounces.

We expect gold’s importance as an asset class continue to improve, thanks to the continuing geopolitical tensions and significant dark clouds gathering around the global economy. The Fund was fully invested in gold bullion during the period.

The Fund’s total net asset value increased by 2.3% during the period, from $167.6 million as at December 31, 2022 to $171.5 million as at June 30, 2023. This change was predominantly due to unrealized gains on investments of $3.8 million.

Recent Developments

There were no material changes to the investment strategy and features of the Fund during the period ended June 30, 2023. The Manager actively monitors the positioning of the Fund’s portfolio for changes in current market conditions and the economic environment.

1 This information is provided as at June 30, 2023 and December 31 for the years shown prior to 2023.

2 Management expense ratio ("MER") is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period. The Manager may waive or absorb a portion of the operating expenses of the Fund. Waivers and absorption can be terminated at any time.

3 The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. Since there are no direct trading costs associated with physical bullion trades, the trading expense ratio is nil.

4 The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser trades its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Fund.

Past Performance

The indicated rates of return are the historical total returns including changes in unit values and assume reinvestment of all distributions in additional units of the relevant Series of the Fund. These returns do not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or optional charges or income taxes payable by any unitholder that may reduce returns. Please note that past performance is not indicative of future performance. All rates of returns are calculated based on the Net Asset Value of the particular Series of the Fund.

Year-by-Year Returns

The following chart indicates the performance of each Series of the Fund for the period ended June 30, 2023 and each of the previous years ended December 31 shown, unless otherwise indicated. The chart shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each period would have grown or decreased by the last day of each period. Returns are not shown for a Series in any period in which there were zero outstanding units as at the end of the period.

* Series I units were fully redeemed during the year ended December 31, 2017.

 Return from February 25, 2022 (first issuance) to December 31, 2022, for Series D (not annualized).
